EUROPE WILL NEED GRAIN

Banker Deprecates Talk of Serious Labor Trouble on Harriman Lines.

Jacob H. Schiff, head of the banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., returned from Europe yesterday on the steamer Kaiserin Auguste Victoria. He said that with the exception of two or three weeks spent in London and Berlin he had kept away from the large centres, and in consequence was not well qualified to express himself upon immediate affairs, but said he was optimistic regarding business conditions for the future, both here and in Europe. Mr. Schiff deprecated talk of scrious labor trouble occurring on the Harriman lines. He said that underlying conditions here, so that he did not look with apprehension the recent considerable decline in stock values. He ventured the opinion that this decline was to a great extent simply a consequence of the unjustified and unwise attempts earlier in the summer to advance prices of stocks through speculative manipulation in the face of the destructive Standard Oil and Tobacco de-

TO FORM NEW HARDWARE CO. Committee Announces Its Plans for Simmons Concern.

W. D. Simmons, president of the Simmons Hardware Company of St. Louis, announced to the stockholders yesterday a plan for the reconstruction of the company's finances formulated by a committee including James G. Cannon, president of the Fourth National Bank of this city; E. C. Simmons and James E. Smith.

The plan calls for the organization of a new company, to be probably called the Simmons Hardware Companies, with $7,-500,000 capital stock, consisting of equal amounts of common and 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock. The present company has a capital of $4,500,000, consisting of three classes of stock as follows: $1,500.000 6 per cent first cumulative preferred, $1,500,000 8 per cent second preferred non-cumulative and $1,500,000 common stock, on which 7 per cent a year has been paid for several

Two distinct propositions are made to each class of stockholders for the exchange of their securities for stock in the new company as follows:

For each share of first preferred stock of the present company, one share of new preferred stock and one-half share of new common stock, or one and one-quarter shares of new preferred. For each share of second preferred stock of the old company, one share of new preferred and onehalf share of new common, or one and onequarter shares of new preferred. For each share of old common stock, one-half share of new preferred and one and one-half shares of new common, or one and onefifth shares of new preferred stock. In addition, each depositing stockholder is to receive a sum in cash equal to the dividends accrued on his deposited stock from the date of the payment of the last dividend to the date from which dividends will accrue on the new stock.

It is pointed out to the stockholders that, owing to the limitations imposed by the Missouri laws, the present company is restrained from owning any of its branches, which are held by stockholders, while the incorporation of the new company under a broader charter will enable it to acquire the branches and expand its busi-

FORECLOSURE SALE GOES ON

Properties of Hudson River Electric Co. Released by Court Order.

Judge Lacombe, of the United States Circuit Court, granted a motion yesterday to vacate the order of supersedeas which had been issued by him on August 19 and had acted as a stay of the foreclosure sale of the franchises and properties of the Hudson River Electric Power Company and several kindred corporations.

As the order of supersedeas was granted to the National Contracting Company, a judgment creditor, to give it an opportunity for an appeal from the decree directing the foreclosure sale, Judge Lacombe gave leave to that company to apply to a judge in the Northern District of New York for an amendmen to fthe decres by which a sum sufficient to meet the appellant's claim should be reserved from the proceeds of the sale. The companies involved in the foreclosure sale are the Hudson River Elec tric Power Company, Hudson River Water Power Company, Hudson River Electric Company, Hudson River Power Transmission Company, Ballston Spa Light and Power Transmission Company Saratoga Gas, Electric Light & Power Company, Empire State Power Company and Madison County Gas and Electric Company. The sale of the properties controlled by these companies has been advertised for August 29 and 30 at Ballston

Wells from Texas Company. A break in the relations between the Texas company, in which the late John W. Gates was the moving spirit, and the Central Fuel Oil Company became known in Wall Street yesterday, when notice was sent out that a meeting of the holders of the first mortgage 6 per cent convertible gold bonds of the Central company had been called for September 14 in this city to vote on rescinding and annulling the fifteen-year agreement entered into bepany a year ago. Under this agreement the Texas company has the right, in case of default by the Central Fuel Oil Company on the principal, interest or sinking fund of the bonds, to advance the money to make good such default and to receive as security for any covered by the mortgage, subject only to the lien of the bonds and coupons.

It was reported that the Central Fuel Company recently disconnected its four hundred wells from the Texas company's pipe lines and returned to the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, which formerly handled its output. The reason for this action, it was said, is that the Central company was unable to deliver 18,000 barrels of oil a day to the Texas company, as provided in the companies last January, on which it was to pay the Texas company $72,000 a month for transportation, and therefore declined to pay the amount of transportation charges called for in the contract.

Still another reason for the break between the two companies was said to be that the Texas company had expended only $900,000 of the $3,000,000 it borrowed from the Cen-

Tribune's Contest Catalogue Great Aid to Contestants

ITH The Tribune's Contest Catalogue, which contains all of the correct names of the towns and cities to be illustrated, and which is the only official and authentic reference for contestants' use in the contest, the puzzle pictures are extremely easy to solve. For quick reference the names of the towns and cities are classified alphabetically under the states in which they are located.

The Catalogue CAN BE HAD ONLY AT THE OFFICE OF THE TRIBUNE. The price is 25 cents at the office. By mail, 30 cents. Mail orders should be addressed to

THE CONTEST MANAGER, NEW-YORK TRIBUNE, New York City. 154 Nassau St.,

In remitting stamps contestants are requested to en-close them in wax paper to prevent gumming. THE TRIBUNE'S Towns and Cities Contest is nearing its close. There are only FOUR MORE TRIOS OF PUZZLE PICTURES to appear. Next Thursday, August 31, marks the date of publication for the last instalment of pictures.

If you intend to enter it is time that you began. Of course, because there are only four more days or four more trios of Puzzle Pictures does not mean that there will be only four more days in which to enter and solve After the last trio of Puzzle Pictures appears there will

After the last trie of Puzzie Fictures appears there will be twelve days' time during which contestants may secure extra numbers and prepare their sets of answers. Thus any one, anywhere, may enter up to and including the last day of the twelve-day time limit. However, all answers must be delivered at the Contest Department of The New-York Tribune on or before the hour of midnight on the restriction of midnight on the contest of the c September 12, or bear the postmark of mailing of not later than that hour and date. Of course, if you are going to enter the Contest you will realize the advantage of doing it now, while you still have enough time to solve every one of the earlier pletures and the few instalments which are yet to appear.

If you enter to-day and solve all of the pictures you will get quick action upon your work, as you will not be compelled to wait very long before you know the results of what you have accomplished. And the work is ex-tremely interesting and fascinating.

The Puzzle Pictures are, of course, getting harder. Naturally, that would be so, or this would not be very much of a competition. Yet it is true that in many cases the Puzzle Pictures that seem hard for one contestant are easy for another, and those that seem easy for the majority of contestants may prove to be the most difficult.

Anyway, if you are one who has not yet entered and think you feel reluctant because the Puzzle Pictures now appearing strike you as being difficult to solve, here is a The Tribune's Contest Catalogue, which you can secure either by mail or at The Tribune Office, and as announced herewith, contains all of the correct names represented by the Towns and Cities Puzzle Pictures. The State in which the name of the Town and City is located appears upon each Puzzle Picture. In order to solve these Puzzles correctly you only need to scan over the names listed under the State represented by the picture in the Contest Catalogue, and if you will apply yourself diligently and carnestly for a few hours' time you will satisfy yourself that you can answer a greater majority of the pictures correctly.

It should be understood that while it is possible it is not very probable that any one contestant will answer all of the names of the Towns and Cities Puzzle Pictures correctly. Therefore, those who enter now may be more careful in solving the pictures and may secure a higher careful in solving the pictures and may secure a higher percentage of accuracy than many contestants who have followed the contest from its very beginning and think that they know each and every picture correctly.

To enter the Contest you need only to secure the back numbers, which may be had at the office of The New-York Tribune, No. 154 Nassau Street, or by mail, and as specified at the foot of this announcement.

Read over the rules carefully. You will find them simple and effective. Look over the list of wonderful prizes, and above all, secure and look over a copy of the Contest Catalogue.

WARNING TO CONTESTANTS!

It has recently been brought to the notice of the Tribune Contest Manager that certain unscrupulous persons living in and near New York City are at-tempting to swindle the contestants engaged in the Tribune Towns and Cities Contest by offering for-sale a book which they say readily solves all the sale a book which they say readily solves all the puzzles in the only correct way.

The Tribune takes this means to warn all contestants against purchasing these books, as the entire offer is a hoax and is only intended to defraud the contestants and enrich the swindlers. It is absurd for any one to state that he knows all the correct answers, when the solution of many of the pictures is not known to any person among those in charge of the contest. The only correct and authentic book which will aid the contestants at all is the Tribune Contest Catalogue, which can be obtained only at the office of The Tribune.

RULES OF THE CONTEST.

Each day for sixty-seven days The Tribune will publish Drily and Sunday, three illustrations, cartoons or other representations of the name of a town or city located in the United States or Canada. The contest began on Monday, June 26th.

The names of the towns and cities to be illustrated are being selected by The New-York Tribune, and are included in The Tribunes's Contest Catalogue of towns and cities, which is published as guide and reference to contestants for use in the contest.

The contest is open to all regular readers of the Daily and Sunday Tribune, excepting employees and members of their families. To enter the contest it is only necessary to become a reder of The Tribune Daily and Sunday editions.

Contestants must indicate the town or city represented by the picture upon the coupon provided therefor. Coupons may be filled out with pen, pencil, typewriter or printed in any manner to suit the fancy of the contestant, but the complete coupon must be returned.

Where contestants are not certain as to the name of the tosa and city illustrated they will be permitted to send five—not mare—unswers to each picture. If the correct answer is given incerrect answers will not count against the contestant. Only three answers may be written upon a single coupon. Extra blanks should be used for additional answers, and all answers they are also as a single coupon. Extra blanks should be used for additional answers, and all answers they may do so without filling out the entire coupon. Althout several members of a family may compete in the contest, they may do so without filling out the entire coupon. Althout several members of a family may compete in the contest.
